

RAPID CITY – South Dakota may seem somewhat off the beaten path, but the Black Hills really have quite a bit to offer. You may have heard about Mount Rushmore, maybe even the ongoing carving at Crazy Horse Monument, only another 350 miles before you get your free glass of water at Wall Drug. Sturgis Falls offers an annual pilgrimage of all manner of bikers from yuppies driving their rice machines to some bearded cross between an alligator and a gorilla pushing their Harleys. Haven't quite figured out where they carry their clubs. Did Wild Bill Hickok get gunned down in a Deadwood saloon?
